Make our planet better to look at.

View it through Finlayson's Envirowood doors and windows - as attractive and durable as they are planet-friendly.

At Finlayson's, we've had over 130 years of timber industry leadership to work out how to make our joinery products not only the best for our customers, but also for the environment.

That's why decades ago, we developed our unique Envirowood system - possibly the world's most environmentally - friendly way of creating quality timber joinery.

Instead of depleting forests for traditional hardwoods, we use sustainable plantation-grown Araucaria which we specially select and carefully grade for quality. Then we treat it with our own scientifically developed 'LOSP' solution to ensure absolute durability and stability in Queensland's extreme wether conditions.

The result is a comprehensive range of superbly crafted doors and windows that carry a six year guarantee against faulty materials or workmanship, a twenty five year guarantee against rot or fungal attack and an absolute guarantee that our planet will look better viewed through them.
